British Institute of International and Comparative Law

The British Institute of International and Comparative Law

(BIICL) is a leading independent legal research and membership organisation with charitable status, unaffiliated to any university. It is the only body of its kind in the UK and one of very few in the world. It is not publicly or privately funded by any one government, institution or person. Established in 1958 and based in London with a dedicated team of staff, it brings together legal practitioners in private and public practice, in-house counsel, scholars and students, as members and contributors. It has developed a strong global network in international and comparative law and the rule of law.

BIICL undertakes five key activities: applied legal research, events, capacity-building training, publications and membership services. We conduct research around the world across the broad range of public international law, private international law, comparative law, competition law, European law and international investment law and the rule of law. Our focus is on applied research, based on strong conceptual foundations, which is practical, offers examples of good practice, and recommendations for policy and legal actions. Our activities often cross the traditional boundaries of law, so as to engage with contemporary national, regional and international issues, and we consistently have an impact on law and policy worldwide.

BIICL has created a diverse community of scholars and practitioners and serves as an unrivalled focal point for our substantial membership base. BIICL members include judges, practising lawyers, government officials, regulators, international civil servants, academics and students. We keep our members abreast of the latest developments in international and comparative law.

Within BIICL, the Bingham Centre for the Rule of Law is devoted to the study and promotion of the rule of law worldwide. Launched in 2010, the Centre has established a broad base of work internationally that highlights threats to the rule of law while promoting high quality studies and training.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

The ICLQ welcomes the submission of contributions for consideration by the Board of Editors with a view to publication. All manuscripts must be submitted online via the website: <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/iclq>

The Board of Editors will only consider material which complies with the following:

1. The submission should be an original, unpublished work not currently under consideration for publication elsewhere. Please note that our exclusive submission policy means you cannot submit your work to another journal until you have received a decision from us. If you would like to submit to another journal, you must withdraw your article from consideration by the ICLQ.
2. The ICLQ publishes articles that deal with public international law, private international law, comparative law, human rights law and European Union law. It particularly encourages the submission of innovative and original articles whose theme or content illuminate more than one of these subject areas. Articles which do no more than rehearse familiar and well-known material, or which are concerned only with national law (other than private international law) in a non-comparative way, should not be submitted.
3. Long articles should not exceed 12,000 words (16,000 words including footnotes). Pieces of up to 6,000 words will usually be considered for the 'Shorter Articles and Notes' section. The editors will decide on the section to which all contributions, irrespective of length, are best suited should they be accepted for publication. ScholarOne will require you to enter the word count (including footnotes) when submitting your article, and to indicate if you intend it for the 'Shorter Articles and Notes' section.
4. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively throughout the article and be in the form normally used by the ICLQ. Please see the Style Guide for further information. Footnoting should not be excessive.
5. A short (50-100 words) abstract of the article should be supplied. We reserve the right to edit abstracts for length and style. Please also supply a minimum of five keywords (maximum ten) for your article to enable digital searching.
6. Authors should state their present academic or professional affiliation and indicate any professional or personal involvement in the subject matter of the article.
7. The ICLQ only accepts submissions online via the ScholarOne platform. To upload your manuscript please go to: <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/iclq>. Detailed instructions for submitting your manuscript online can be found at the submission website by clicking on the 'Instructions and Forms' link in the top right of the screen; and then clicking on the 'Author Submission Instructions' icon on the following page. The Editor will acknowledge receipt

JULY 2018

When founded in 1952, the International and Comparative Law Quarterly was the only journal which offered the reader coverage of comparative law as well as public and private international law as well as European Union law. Since then it has maintained its pre-eminence amongst journals of its kind and it continues to offer practitioners and academics wide topical coverage without compromising rigorous editorial standards.

Membership of the British Institute of International and Comparative Law brings with it a subscription to the International and Comparative Law Quarterly, or it is available as a personal annual subscription from the distributor Cambridge University Press.
